14

CONSTRUCTION SKILLS

14.1 INTRODUCTION

In order to make any garment, it is necessary to make a drafting before cutting. If one knows how to make a drafting then the cloth can be properly cut and a well fitting garment according to measurements can be made. Many accessories are used in various garments like-velcro, lace, elastic, ribbon, etc. Hence, we should also know how and where these accessories are used.

13.2 OBJECTIVES

After reading this lesson, you will be able to :

- explain and demonstrate the use of velcro and elastic.

14.3 USE OF VELCRO

This is a type of adhesive tape. Both the tapes are rough on one side and have an adhesive quality. It is plain on the reverse side. It is used in curtains, on bags and cushions and even on sandal straps now-a-days. It is used to close openings. It is quite convenient in use. For example, if we want to put up two curtains, we can sew them together to make it look as one. But then it will not be possible to open it from the center. But if we use a velcro tape, then the two curtains can be opened and closed as desired. Hence it becomes convenient and easy to do many things by using velcro.

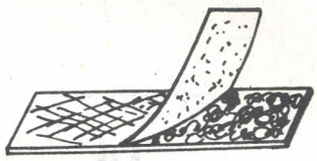

Fig 14.1

14.4 USE OF ELASTIC

Elastics are generally used in children's garments. Since children can not manage to tie tapes in their clothes, it is convenient to use elastics. Elastics are of various types - narrow, round, flat (¼" to 1½") and sometimes an even broader elastic is used in skirts. Elastics are used in children's pyjama tops and bottoms, in sleeve bottoms, in jhablas and in skirts and knickers, etc. The garments can be fitted as desired with the use of elastic. Elastics also form an important aspect of designing.